Guy E. Basye and Arthur Rutter

"New Zealand" was the theme of the program June 10 at the Hope Rotary Club, when Arthur Rutter of Auckland, New Zealand, a guest of Guy E. Basye, spoke to the club about his native land. He told the Rotarians and their guests interesting facts about the small land in the South Pacific that he calls home. This included information about its government, economy, industry, climate, and sports. He concluded by issuing an invitation to all to visit New Zealand, 17 hours away by jet and 17 days away by ship.

The program was arranged by Guy Basye, who introduced the speaker. In lieu of his scheduled program on American Foreign Policy, pamphlets on the subject were distributed. Bryon Thompson of Nashville was the only visiting Rotarian. Other out-of-town guests were Alston Hammons, Miami, Fla.;

Linwood Smith, Little Rock; and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Floyd, Gordon, en route to Paris, France, on assignment from the U. S. State Department. Guests from Hope were the Rev. Alf Eason, Dr. George Wright, Dorsey McRae, Jr., Roy Wray, and A. A. Albritton.

Can't Question Suspect If He is Alone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today police may not question a suspect if he is alone and "indicates in any manner that he does not wish to be interrogated."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, not using damaging statements union, said the prosecution may win the court's main opinionless it is shown that safeguards were taken "to secure the privileges against self-incrimination."

The ruling was given in four cases which grew out of the historic 1964 decision which extended the right to counsel to a suspect in a police station. Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White dissented in all four cases. Justice Tom C. Clark dissented in three cases and concurred with the majority in the fourth. Warren said a defendant may waive his rights to remain silent and to have an attorney with him, "provided the waiver is made voluntarily, knowingly and intelligently."

Klan Leader on Trial in Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government brings Ku Klux Klan leader Robert M. Shelton to trial in U.S. District Court here today in the first round of an attempt to convict seven Klan leaders on contempt of Congress charges.

Chief U.S. Dist. Judge Matthew F. McGuire was to designate a trial judge for the trial of Shelton, named by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as imperial wizard of the United Klans of America. If convicted, he faces a fine of between $100 and $1,000 and a prison sentence of from one month to one year.

Lester V. Chalmers, Shelton's attorney, declined to say in advance whether he would ask for a delay in the trial.

The Shelton trial, which is expected to be short, is likely to serve as a test case for the trial of the six other Klan leaders scheduled this fall. All were cited for contempt by the House Feb. 2 and indicted a day later by a federal grand jury.

The contempt charges were brought on grounds the Klan officials refused to supply records and other documents to the Un-American Activities Committee during its four-month look last fall and winter into the Klan's secrets. Shelton appeared before the Klan investigation subcommittee last Oct. 19 and 20. After he gave his name and place and year of birth—Tuscaloosa, Ala., June 1929—and said he had received a committee subpoena to testify Oct. 11, he refused to answer questions.

Nugent Gets Razzing From Buddies

By GEORGE ESPER

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—Around Hill 22 the other officers sometimes jokingly call him "POB."

That's "Pat's Older Brother," Marine Lt. Gerard Nugent, 24. Pat is Pat Nugent, who will marry President Johnson's daughter, Luci, in Washington, Aug. 6.

"The only way it affects me," said Gerard Nugent, "is that I get razzed a lot by other officers around here. Capt. Gomez of Gulf Company, a real good friend—he started this 'POB' stuff. They keep asking me when I'm going home for the wedding. I don't really mind it."

Actually, he won't be home for the wedding. He won't finish his tour here until September. If he were home, he would be the best man.

Under arrangements announced by the White House April 30, the Nugents' father, investment counselor Jerry P. Nugent, will be proxy best man for the lieutenant.

Gerard Nugent is a platoon leader and his unit, the 3rd Platoon of Echo Company, 2nd Battalion, 3rd Marine Regiment, has been based on Hill 22, south of Da Nang.

"We got a perimeter," he explained. "Our main mission is to patrol our area, and we patrol day and night. It is pretty much of a defensive position."

Nugent is affable but firm. He appears to be well liked by his men.

A graduate of Marquette University and Naval ROTC in 1963, he is considering making the Marine Corps a career.

"I got a regular commission so I'll probably stay in," he said.

Nugent said Luci writes to him occasionally and Pat writes to him once a week. The Johnson family sent him a message at Easter wishing him a happy holiday.

Apparently Pat is very busy with his wedding plans. "I get a letter scribbled from him," Gerard said, "once a week. It seems like it takes him five minutes to write it."

The lieutenant's wife, Phyllis, is living in San Diego, Calif. The Nugents' family home is in Waukegan, Ill.

Young Bridesmaid

It's heartening to hear men encourage women to be fresh and feminine. Hand care specialist James Jenkins (of Pacquin) suggests a bridesmaid (left) start at least a week before the ceremony to smooth her complexion and hands. Hairstylist John Bernard, meanwhile, designs a flattering hairdo for the bridesmaid, using a wiglet (right) in a lighter color than the bridesmaid's natural hair color. Wiglet is braided, draped on one side with a curl of real hair at the neckline. Ribbon may be interwined in the braid to substitute for the daisies shown here.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Next to the father of the bride, the most overlooked person in the wedding party is the bridesmaid.

This shouldn't be. According to a sympathetic hairstylist here, John Bernard, the wedding of a friend or relative provides the unmarried bridesmaid with a perfect showcase. The problem then is to take advantage of the special occasion from this young woman's point of view without detracting from the bride.

Britisher Bernard first suggests any young woman with wedding duty in sight take a long look in the mirror. He says the looking glass should reflect a youthful freshness and not a carbon copy of mother or even grandmother in dress and make-up. John Bernard is far from pleased with the kooky, architectural haircuts and points out they make most women look hard and unattractive to men. He doesn't recommend such a hairdo for the bridesmaid.

Instead, he says to select a hairdo that frames the face to advantage but doesn't cover it like a sheepdog. Such a style also needs to be in keeping with your age. He especially likes long romantic hairstyles for women under 25. If you have long flowing hair, don't hide it during the wedding ceremony. For the young woman with shorter hair, John Bernard recommends a postiche.

John Bernard, being a romanticist, believes a bridesmaid should begin early to pamper her complexion, lose a few pounds if necessary and generally work to look her best for the ceremony.

Concurring with the hairstylist is hand care specialist James W. Jenkins (of Pacquin). He suggests use of hand and body lotions on upper arms, elbows and the neck every night for at least a week before the wedding.

Both men feel that while some wedding guests are gazing at the new bride, others will be looking at the bridesmaid who makes the effort to be freshly groomed and attractive.

Expansion Could Mean Turning Point

WASHINGTON (AP)—High administration officials believe expanding U.S. combat operations in Viet Nam may hasten a turning point in the war against Communist conquest in South Viet Nam.

A new tone of optimism is apparent in official comment here, although it is not universally shared. Some highly placed officials fear that the military gains now being registered may be frustrated by new political violence in South Viet Nam or by some strategic shift on the part of Communist forces.

However the dominant administration line as developed primarily by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and apparently supported by Secretary of State Dean Rusk is that political turmoil among the South Vietnamese this spring had caused only temporary—even though serious—setbacks to the anti-Communist fight and "substantial military progress" has been made in recent weeks.

In a joint news conference with Rusk at the White House Saturday, McNamara also told reporters that offensive operations by the United States, South Vietnamese and allied forces had frustrated plans of the Communist high command for a "monsoon offensive."

Other officials indicate that the total amount of damage which allied forces are now able to inflict on Communist forces is almost in balance with the gains which the Communists are able to make by way of infiltration of troops from North Viet Nam and recruitment in the south.

Administration officials have claimed that in the first four months of this year—January through April—the North Vietnamese sent 19,000 men through the jungle roads and trails into South Viet Nam—an average of about 4,700 a month. In the same period about 14,000 fighters are estimated to have been added to Viet Cong forces through recruitment in the south. The gross gain from the two sources totaled about 33,000.

For the same period of four months more than 16,000 Communist fighters are reported to have been killed in action with other thousands wounded, captured or defeated to South Viet Nam. U.S. officials estimate that Communist losses from all these sources totaled more than 30,000 and that even with errors in all statistics, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese total gains and total losses must be approaching a point of balance.

They regard this as an important measure of progress because a critical point in the war from the administration view, is expected to be reached when Viet Cong and North Vietnamese losses exceed their infiltration and recruitment rate.

Johnson administration leaders have hoped that such a point might be reached early next year. Some now wonder whether it may develop more rapidly depending on both military and political developments in South Viet Nam.

McNamara disclosed Saturday that 18,000 more American troops will go to Viet Nam in the next 45 days, raising the total of U.S. forces in the south to 285,000.

Kennedy Home to Be Shrine

NEW YORK (AP)—Northern Ireland will make the ancestral home of the late President John F. Kennedy into a national shrine.

The British Travel Service announced Thursday in New York that the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, Episcopal dean of the Washington Cathedral in the nation's capital, will conduct the ceremonies opening the house at Strabane, near Londonderry.

The home once belonged to James Wilson, grandfather of President Wilson, who migrated to the United States in 1807.

The second law passed by the first Congress in 1789 set a 5-to-15 per cent tariff on more than 80 imports.

Most cities have volunteer groups such as the Crippled Children's League, whose members take handicapped young people on outings, teach them crafts, etc. Call your Welfare or Mental Health Association and inquire. Or, if you can find several other parents of crippled children, you might form a group of your own.

Who knows, this slammed door may open a new life for your daughter.—H.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Vincent Edwards glanced at the trade-paper headlines over breakfast coffee at the Brown Derby. The news: TV writers

The actor grinned wryly and commented, "Thank God I don't have to worry about things like that; I'm finished with Old Sourpuss."

For the first time in five years, Edwards was not faced with a long season of portraying the sullen surgeon, Ben Casey. He has performed his last lobotomy, and he's glad of it.

I mentioned that he never referred to Dr. Casey as Old Sourpuss while he was making the series.

"That's true," he admitted. "I spoke of him more respectfully. But I can't be derogatory about old Ben, even if he was a sourpuss. He did all right by me."

"We chose at the outset to play him somber, figuring it would give the character more depth. It seemed to work. But I'm happy to be smiling again."

And why not? Already enriched by "Ben Casey," he'll be collected on reruns here and abroad for a long time hence.

Now he's branching out in other directions. He hopes to start his Columbia Pictures contract soon; he'd like the first film to be "In Cold Blood," as what actor wouldn't?

Sorenson, Syms Top Ft. Smith Field

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Former champion Carol Sorenson and Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms, winner of two major titles this year, head the field of amateur golfers in the 38th annual Trans-Mississippi Women's Amateur which opens Monday.

Miss Sorenson, of Racine, Wis., won the tournament in 1964.

Mrs. Syms, of Hollywood, Fla., has already swept the North and South and Women's Southern amateurs and probably ranks as the favorite among the 144 golfers who tee off Monday in the medal play qualifying round.

Match play begins Tuesday over the 7,000-yard, par 72 Hardscrabble Country Club course with the top 64 qualifiers entering the championship flight. Each match will go 18 holes except for Saturday's finals, which be a 36-hole test.

About 40 women in the field of 144 have handicaps of six or less.

Sharon Miller of Battle Creek, last year's champion, will not be back to defend her title. She recently joined the women's pro tour.

However, last year's runner-up, Joyce Kazmierski of Detroit, is in the field. She is the Midwest collegiate champion and finished second last year in the National Collegiate and Midwest tournaments.

Three former National Collegiate champions are entered — Miss Sorenson, Patti Shook of Saginaw, Mich., and Robert Albers of Miami Beach.

Peggy Conley, who as a 16-year-old placed second in the 1963 USGA Women's Amateur, is another strong contender. The Spokane Wash., golfer became the youngest player ever named to the U. S. Curtis Cup team in 1964.

Among the top Arkansas golfers in the field are three former state champions — Mrs. Jim Wellons of Little Rock, Mrs. Anne Gookin of Pine Bluff and Mrs. J. J. Freeman, Jr., of Little Rock.

They are among five Arkansans with handicaps less than six. The others are Dorothy Germain of Blytheville, who reached the quarterfinals in the 1965 Western Amateur, and Sharon Flippin of Fort Smith.

19 Million Lined Up for Medicare

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

Many of the nation's hospitals, some of them already crowded, are braced for an expected increase in elderly patients July 1 when medicare goes into effect.

In short, elderly Americans will be able to compete for hospital beds on a large scale for the first time — and private patients may find it tougher to get into the hospitals they want in some areas.

Across the nation, an Associated Press survey shows doctors are telling hospital administrators that patients 65 and over have been saving up their ailments until the bills could be paid by medicare.

But no one agrees on how large an increase there will be — and as yet hard evidence, such as room and bed reservations, is lacking to back up the predictions.

More than 19 million elderly Americans are ready to take advantage of medicare.

July 1 brings only the first of two medicare deadlines. On that day hospital insurance begins for all who have signed up, and optional medical insurance becomes effective for those who decided to pay the $36 a year it will cost. So far 17.2 million or 90 per cent of those eligible have signed up for the doctor-bill, medical-service insurance.

The second medicare deadline comes Jan. 1, 1967, when nursing home benefits begin.

The immediate problem is July 1. Have people saved up their ills to be treated under medicare? Will there be enough hospital beds to hold them? If there aren't, who gets priority?

President Johnson received a report from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which will operate medicare, and that report cited what will be local shortages in hospital beds and facilities.

It is not expected, the department said, that hospital loads would be increased more than some 5 per cent over the nation.

However, there is already overcrowding of hospital facilities in some areas, and some of the best hospitals in certain parts of the country are overcrowded even though other facilities in the same area are not, the report said.

A player who takes time to compliment his partner is likely to be popular. South smiled happily when he saw dummy and said, "Nice bidding, partner."

He won the diamond lead with his ace and played his ace of spades. East showed out and at this point South had no way to make his grand slam. He made a valiant effort but it was too little and too late. He started by ruffing a diamond and returning to his hand with a trump. Then he ruffed his last diamond and led a club to his king. East held seven clubs and West was able to ruff.

Of course this play did increase South's general popularity. Both opponents were delighted.

South was indignant. His ire was directed against the blind goddess of chance. Who else but poor South did she punish that way? Who else would find all three trumps in one hand and all seven clubs in the other? The odds against that particular bad break would have to be at least a million to one.

The odds are nothing like that. When you miss seven of a suit you will run into a 7-0 break about once in 200 times. A suit breaks 3-0 about 22 times in a hundred. When you make further allowance for the extra probability that if one man holds all seven clubs the other is very likely to be long in spades, you get a compound probability of less than one in a thousand.

Anyway, South had no reason to blame Lady Luck for his misfortune. Once the ace of diamonds held, he could ruff a diamond with the jack of trumps; lead a trump to his ten; ruff another diamond with the queen; draw trumps and score the grand slam.

Owners of boats equipped with motors of more than 10 horsepower are reminded of the annual renewal required before July 1. Renewals cost only $1 and can be secured in person or by mail through the various County Revenue Collectors' offices in each county. Registration for new boats costs $2.

The law requires that boat owners either paint or firmly attach the registration number on both forward sides of the boat where it can easily be seen. The numbers can be of any color so long as they contrast with the color of the boat and provide good legibility. The number must read from left to right, with letter groups separated from numerals by hyphens or space, such as AR-213-PU or AR 213 PU.

If you've purchased a used boat with a number already assigned, the boat registration must be transferred to the new owner's name and must be obtained within 15 days after the purchase date. The permit costs $1. If a certificate number is lost — a common occurrence at renewal time — A renewal certificate is available for $1.00 and may be obtained only between July 1 and July 15 for this amount. At any other time the certificate renewal costs $2. Owners of boats that are destroyed or abandoned are also required by law to notify the County Revenue Collector's office so that the boat number can be cancelled.

The Game and Fish Commission has available at no charge a booklet, "Arkansas Boat Owners Guide," that in question-answer form provides answers to the most frequently asked questions concerning compliance with the numbering, registration, and safety laws.

Nearly 1 1/4 million walleye fry were stocked in Lake Ouachita in early May, and another million walleye were deposited in Lake Greason by personnel of the Fisheries Division.

The walleye were released in the upper end of the main arm of Lake Ouachita, near Twin Creeks access area, Housley Point, the confluence of the main fork, southfork and northfork arms of the lake. The fish were obtained by the commission from the State of Nebraska. Stocking at Lake Greason, formerly Lake Narrows, was carried out in the Cowhide Cove arm, and from Bear Creek arm of the main channel.

Walleye stocking in the big lakes up to this point has been centered around Lakes Norfolk, Bull Shoals, Beaver, and Greers Ferry. Lake Ouachita was stocked with 2 million walleye in May of 1964.

The American Association for Conservation Information, an International Organization made up of Information and Education Specialists, which concluded a four day conference in Hot Springs on June 8, praised the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission for its display of Southern hospitality in hosting the group.

Attending the conference were 90 delegates from various U.S. and Canadian conservation agencies and G&FC staffs. The group elected Doyce Bond of Oklahoma as its new president, Jim Sherman of Iowa as first vice-president, Bill Dillinger of California as second vice president, and Steve Haron of Louisiana as secretary-treasurer. The new officers were elected during the final session of the conference.

George Purvis was elected to the board of directors, and Jack Dyer and Jay Kaffka were appointed for committee work. The association honored Sam Welch of Bull Shoals with an Award of Merit in recognition for his outstanding services to conservation and the promotion of sportsmanship.

The 1967 AACI conference will be held in British Columbia (Canada) and the 1968 meeting will be conducted at New Orleans, with the Louisiana G & FC serving as host.

The meeting in Hot Springs marked the first time the group had convened in Arkansas during its 25-year history.

Six of 10 in U.S. Visited a Doctor Last Year and the Women Outnumbered the Men

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Some 122 million Americans — six out of 10 — visited their doctors last year. As usual, the women outnumbered the men.

Your chances of becoming a centenarian are getting better all the time. There are now more than 12,000 who have reached the age of 100. Science may not be able to cure wrinkles — but at long last it feels it knows what caused them. They are believed to result from the gradual loss of a chemical called hyaluronic acid, which helps hold water in skin tissues.

If you want to sell somebody something during office hours, avoid Mondays and Fridays. A survey found salesmen make most sales on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and prospects were more likely to buy in the morning than in the afternoon.

The nation now has 95.6 million licensed motor vehicle drivers. At this rate the country should soon reach a historic milestone: It'll have more front-than back-seat drivers.

Prosperity note: Most people are living higher on the hog — but more are going broke, too. Personal bankruptcies tripled from 51,000 in 1955 to 163,400 in 1965.

Why do you wake up feeling tired? Well, if you weigh 150 pounds and shift positions four times an hour, that means you've had to move about 4,800 pounds during eight hours of sleep.

Life must have been pretty empty for teen-agers before 1950. It wasn't until then that a U.S. doctor developed peanut butter, thus making possible the chief fodder of modern youth — the peanut butter and jelly sandwich.

Other side of the problem: Listen magazine reports the experience of a researcher on juvenile delinquency who called 10 homes at 9 p.m. to check if the parents knew where their children were at that hour. "My first five calls," he said, "were answered by children who had no idea where their parents were."

The octopus is timid and harmless unless provoked.

Lived 31 Days on Chimp Kidney

ROME (AP) — An Italian youth who lived 31 days with a chimpanzee's kidney in his body died Wednesday, but doctors said the transplanted kidney had functioned well to the end.

Spokesmen at Rome's Polyclinic Hospital said death was due to a heart and circulatory deficiency resulting from hypertension that had existed before the transplant.

THE WELL CHILD

Cross-Eyed Children Need Early Treatment

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Every baby who looks in two directions at once is not cross-eyed. It takes a child about six months to learn to focus on an object with both eyes. If this habit has not been formed by that time he will probably need help and the sooner it is given the better the end result.

When both eyes do not focus on a single point, the brain receives two images. Since we are not birds, for whom this type of vision is normal, we tend to ignore one image and concentrate on the other. This weakens the ability to see of the eye with the ignored image.

When this condition is allowed to progress until a child is 6, the chances of saving the sight in the weak eye are poor and yet this type of preventable one-sided blindness is still all too common. Here are some of the things to watch for in your preschool child: persistent tilting of the head to one side, frowning or squinting, rubbing the eyes, shutting or covering one eye, holding picture book too close, persistent blinking, unusual eye movements, stumbling over low objects, avoidance of light and redness or watering of the eyes.

A simple test for crossed eyes is to have your child look you in the eye, then quickly cover one eye. If the other eye shifts to focus on you the child is cross-eyed. If it does not shift this may be the dominant eye so repeat the maneuver covering the eye not previously covered. If the degree of crossing is so mild you can detect it only by this test there is a good chance that it can be corrected without an operation.

Your eye doctor can block the vision in the good eye for a week or two at a time to strengthen the vision in the weaker eye. This type of treatment may have to be continued for five or six months, but if the weakness has not been corrected after six months this treatment should be abandoned. Surgery may or may not then be required.

The important thing to remember is that a 6-month-old child is not too young to have an examination for crossed eyes. In any case it should be done before he is 3 years old and the examination should be repeated every year until he starts school.

Q—Is it harmful for a child of preschool age to drink chocolate milk instead of whole milk?

A—Since such a child is likely to eat too much sugar and not enough fat, whole milk would be better for him.

Postal Complaint Arrives In Reverse

You can't hope to please every body, no matter how hard you try.

Over the years the Post Office Department has received thousands of letters protesting slow mail service. On the other day there arrived a letter which said it has part of Washington rocking. It was a complaint about speedy delivery of mail.

The letter came from a Shaftsbury, Vt., man who complained that a letter postmarked 4:30 p.m. in New Bedford, Mass., had been delivered the next day. "Overnight from such a distant city to our place in the woods is fantastic," he wrote. "Such efficiency must cost like the mischief. And we know of no one who needs such service. We certainly hope no more money will be spent to keep up such speed over the roads let alone spending money to better the record."

Like we said, you can't hope to please everybody, especially somebody deep in the woods of Vermont. — Anderson (S.C.) Independent

A Car's Restful Life

The average passenger car is actually in operation only during about 5 per cent of its life, says the American Automobile Association. The remaining time it is parked somewhere.

That sounds reasonable. And we would wager that about 4 per cent of the 5 per cent operating time is used up looking for a place to spend the 95 per cent of parking time. — Knoxville (Tenn.) News-Sentinel

Busy Week Ahead for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP). If Congress follows the course charted by its leaders, this could be one of its busiest weeks of the year.

Scheduled for action in both branches is an assortment of legislation dealing with a wide range of subjects including prevention of cruelty to animals and the expenditure of billions of dollars.

As usual the program for the start of the week is light.

The House considers today bills to boost the amount of bonds that may be issued by the Tennessee Valley Authority and to broaden the Foreign Service Building Act. The Senate schedule calls for action on several private bills.

Later in the week, with no definite timetable worked out, the Senate may act on House-passed bills boosting the national debt ceiling; appropriating funds to finance the Agriculture, Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments; making it a federal crime to mistreat animals used for research purposes; and levying "a buck a bale" tax on cotton to finance research programs if growers approve.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hopes to whip into shape the annual foreign aid authorization bill, while its Agriculture Committee may start work on a two-year, $6.6 billion Food for Freedom measure passed last week by the house.

The House expects to spend all day Tuesday debating and voting on a $17.8-billion defense procurement measure passed by the Senate with a smaller price tag. The bill has been on the House calendar more than two weeks and its consideration already has been postponed twice.

The balance of the House week will be spent considering bills extending the 1951 Renegotiation Act and the 1950 Defense Production Act and amending the foreign investors tax law.

House committee action will focus on the foreign aid bill, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, automobile safety, a new civil rights program and President Johnson's new antipoverty proposals.

Sweep Monks Streets Anew, Ending Peace

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
SAGON (AP) — Buddhist-inspired demonstrators swept the streets of Saigon anew today, ending two weeks of comparative peace in the riot-weary capital of South Viet Nam.

Steel-helmeted riot police deployed around the U. S. Embassy as crowds of demonstrators by robed monks and nuns converged on the city's center.

A score of monks were arrested at the central market, and crowds fled before clouds of tear gas fired from grenade launchers.

The demonstrations were staged at the height of the evening rush hour. As usual, the demonstrators marched out of the Buddhist Institute some two miles from the heart of the city. The institute has been the nerve center of all Buddhist agitation in Saigon.

One group succeeded in reaching the heavily guarded Gia Long Palace, the residence of the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, whom the Buddhists want removed along with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Riot police charged the crowd there, herding the monks into police vans. Youths were taken to police stations and police said they would be sent for induction into the army.

In scattered parts of the city police removed outside Buddhist family altars, put out in an emotional gesture of antigovernment protest.

Charges Filed After Accident

Yesterday on Pine Street an auto driven by Dwight Purifoy, 11, hit a car parked at the Methodist Church causing considerable damage. The parked auto belonged to Mrs. Mary Jett Cox.

City Police Sgt. James Rowe said that owner of the first car, Winfred E. McCann of Shreveport, La., has been charged with permitting a minor to drive an auto and with driving while intoxicated.

Officers also reported two breakins with cigarette machines robbed at the James Motor Co. station and the Trading Post service station.

Overpass on Melrose Lane Is Approved

County Judge Orle Byers has received notification from the Arkansas State Highway Department that the Bureau of Public Roads has approved a grade separation (overpass) for Melrose Lane where it intersects with Interstate 30 west of Hope.

The original plan would have closed Melrose Lane at this point and through-traffic between Arkansas State Highway 4 to U. S. 87 could no longer use this road.

"This change in plans will mean that people in the area will continue to have the use of the road, as will the mail and school bus routes as well as the possibility of its future use as a bypass route for Arkansas State Highways 4 and 29, and we appreciate the efforts of those who assisted in bringing about this change," said Judge Byers.

Nikita Among the Voters in Russia

By FRED COLEMAN
MOSCOW (AP)—Two fallen leaders—Nikita Khrushchev and V.M. Molotov—were among the voters Sunday as the usual big turnout elected the unopposed candidates for the Soviet Parliament.

Khrushchev, 72, thinner and more subdued than in his last public appearance 15 months ago, smiled as he cast his ballot for the man who replaced him as premier, Alexei N. Kosygin.

"Yes, I've been ill," Khrushchev told newsmen, "but everyone gets ill now and then." The former premier and Communist party chief was hospitalized last summer for kidney trouble.

His wife added that he "is feeling very well now." Khrushchev's appearance at a Moscow polling booth was clearly arranged by Communist officials to show the world that he is alive and healthy — unlike the victims of Stalin's purges.

Riots Bring Violence by Chicago Mobs

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
CHICAGO (AP)—Violent street fighting erupted in a predominantly Puerto Rican neighborhood on Chicago's North Side Sunday night after a policeman shot a Puerto Rican youth he said had threatened him with a gun.

The surging, rock-throwing mobs numbered more than 1,000, police said.

The rioters tipped a police car on its side and burned it. Another squad car was heavily damaged. Windshields of many more were broken by rocks and hurled pop bottles. Fire was started in another police car, but quickly extinguished.

By midnight at least two dozen persons had been injured and more than 30 jailed.

Police were pelted with rocks, bottles and debris as they tried to disperse the crowds in a 10-square-block area.

Sporadic gunfire could be heard and looting was reported in several shops.

Patrolman Thomas Munyon, 26, the officer who shot the youth, described the incident:

"My partner and I went into this alley to break up a fight. . . This guy started to pull a gun on him. There were about 10 or 15 from under his shirt and I shot persons in the alley. . . so my partner and I put the wounded man into a car and got out of there."

Firefighters Battling Calif. Blaze

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen hundred fire fighters were in virtual hand-to-hand combat today against a 20,000-acre brush and pine fire which threatened the bathing area of the nearly extinct California condors in Los Padres National Forest.

"It is strictly a hand-to-hand show," said U.S. Forest Service officer Ray Dalton. "There are steep bluffs, big canyons. The wind is coming from the east, which makes it dangerous."

Towering clouds of smoke cast an orange-tinted pall over the seaside resort town of Santa Barbara, about 35 miles to the south.

Five hundred expert Indian fire fighters arrived on the lines through the night, airlifted from Arizona and New Mexico. Other fire fighters moved in from all over California by bus and plane.

Eight aircraft, which dropped fire retardant solution on the blaze Sunday were to be pressed into service again.

Helicopters airlifted fire fighters into the inferno area which is nearly without roads.

Negroes Push Registration in Miss.

By BILL CRIDER
ENID, Miss. (AP) — Teams of Negroes fan out from the Meredith march into cotton plantations today to push voter registration among Negro workers in the fields.

"I'm sure we will meet with some opposition in view of the publicity on the Meredith march," said Charles Horwitz, a white staff worker for the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party. "But we will go anyway."

He said he expects opposition to be minor.

The main body of marchers will be on U.S. 51 again with a goal of making 20 miles to Grenada by nightfall, the largest jump to date.

March leaders are facing increasing difficulty in getting campsites. At Grenada, homes of Negroes will be open to the procession.

To cut the distance from the Enid campsite where the marchers stayed in two tents Sunday night — and to give veteran hikers a rest — a group of newcomers walked six miles Sunday to near Oakland and were returned to Enid by trucks. Today's march began where the vanguard left off.

MIG Downed by U.S. Pilot in Viet Nam

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy pilot destroyed the 13th Communist MIG of the war in an air battle between the key North Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Haiphong Sunday and narrowly missed getting a second. But 2 U.S. planes were lost in new air attacks against the Communist north today.

Cdr. Hal L. Marr, 40, of Roseburg, Ore., scored the hit on the MIG with his second heat-seeking Sidewinder in a numerically equal dogfight between four F4 Crusader jets from the carrier Hancock and four Soviet-designed MIGs.

A U.S. spokesman said the encounter occurred 31 miles northwest of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's main port, and 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, the capital.

The missile homed in on the MIG's hot tailpipe and destroyed it. Marr, commanding officer of Fighter Squadron 211 aboard the Hancock, attacked another MIG with his 20mm cannon and hit its right wing but ran out of ammunition before he could finish off the enemy plane. The damaged plane apparently limped home.

Conviction for Contempt Tossed Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court threw out today the contempt of Congress conviction of a former union officer who refused to answer questions of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1953.

The unanimous decision, announced by Justice Abe Fortas, reversed a ruling by the U. S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia.

This was the second appeal to the Supreme Court by John T. Gojack, a former vice president of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers of America, in such a case. An earlier contempt of Congress conviction for refusing to answer committee questions during a hearing in Washington was thrown out by the Supreme Court in 1962 because the indictment did not state "the subject under inquiry."

Fortas said the high tribunal found in the new case that the investigation and "question under inquiry" in Gojack's case were neither properly authorized nor specifically stated.

"Nor was the purpose of the inquiry clearly understood, apparently, even by the members of the subcommittee themselves," the justice stated. The court also found another "fatal defect," Fortas related. This was that neither the resolution or any minutes or other records of the committee states the subject matter committed to the subcommittee or otherwise described or defined its jurisdiction in terms of subject matter.
